

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO BE A MEMBER OF THE DOWNTOWN JEWISH COMMUNITY COUNCIL?

DJCC members represent the diversity of Jewish Life in downtown Toronto. "Downtown" is loosely defined as south of Eglinton to Lake Ontario and East-West along the Bloor Subway line.

Members must have a visible presence in downtown Toronto through their programs and services or by engaging downtown Jewish community members. Having a presence downtown is key to being able to take advantage of the DJCC partnership opportunities. We are always supportive of more ways to grow programming downtown. Have an idea? Looking for support to grow your work? Don't hesitate to be in touch with us. Please note: The DJCC is not an advocacy organization.

The cost of membership is $125.
